Remote OT Incident Planning

The Remote OT Incident Planning solution provides organisations with immediate remote assistance to analyse, implement and verify effective incident management and response measures against a variety of tested methodologies.

Utilising proven approaches to minimise the operational risks and reduce the impact of a cyber incident, our team of OT cyber security specialists can assist your organisation in strengthening its overall cyber security posture without stepping foot on the ground - without compromise.

Well versed in the secure transfer of sensitive information remotely, our team can provide specialist analysis, guidance and support for your team to effectively prepare, prevent, detect and respond to an incident. Through a multitude of approaches including remote interviews with key security personnel, a thorough analysis of items such as policies and system architectures, testing of responses against realistic scenarios and real-time support in the case of the real thing - we are there as your trusted partner at every step.

Key Benefits

- Align organisational processes, policies and procedures against the globally recognised best practices of the IEC 62443
- Receive the right guidance to ensure OT security measures are tailor-made for your unique set of business challenges
- Have confidence in the preparedness of your team - through the utilisation of unique incident response training exercises and simulations
- Receive support when you need it most - our specialists ensure the correct measures are in place and are there when they need to be put into action

What We Deliver

As part of this service, Applied Risk is able to assist your organisation in various stages:

- PREPARE - Review existing incident management policies, procedures, network architecture, as-builds, system configurations and asset inventories
- PREVENT - Remotely interview key stakeholders and personnel on policies and clarify roles and responsibilities
- DETECT - Prepare staff responsible for OT security with tailored incident scenarios, simulations and exercises to enact response measures swiftly
- RESPOND - Provide remote support, next steps and reporting guidance in the case of an immediate incident

Get in touch.

info@applied-risk.com
Teleportboulevard 110, 1043 EJ Amsterdam
+31 (0)20 833 4020

Copyright © 2020 Applied Risk B.V.